3/08/2016 OIR-16-092	Completed	Farm Environmental Management Plans	1. Who will the "approved providers" be? 2. Who will check that the information given in a FEMP is correct? 3. How will anyone know if a property owner puts on more fertiliser than is in their FEMP or at different times etc? 4. Who will audit the plans outside of the process? 5. To darify my previous final question: should a HBRC river monitoring point find that, say, nitrate levels are above the limits in PCG, how will HBRC determine which property or properties are responsible for the breaches, and how will they distinguish between "current pollution" and "legacy pollution"? Given that it can take many years for nitrate to move through the water table it would be unfair to punish a new property owner for the actions of a past owner. How is HBRC going to deal with that issue? 6. Also, I can imagine a situation where there is a breach of in-stream nitrate levels, but the nutrient budgets of all properties feeding in to that stream are deemed to be acceptable for their land use. What course of action will HBRC take then? 7. Is HBRC aware that the Overseer model has not been tested or validated for Hawke's Bay conditions, and that there is no record (that I am aware of, and I have asked the Overseer team) of how accurate it is a tredicting whole of farm nitrate leaching?
